MEXICAN UNREST.

ITALIAN CONSUL ARRESTED.

[Reuter's Service To The "Telegraph."]

London, Received February 4.
A message from Paparrelli states that the Italian Consul at Chihuahua, Mexico, has been arrested by Federal troops. The Italian Government is making a protest.

CENTRAL AFRICA.

NEW GERMAN RAILWAY.

London, Received February 4.
The German railway from Dares Salaam to Lake Tanganyika was completed yesterday.
This line will exercise an important influence on the economic future of Central Africa, and express trains will be able to cover the journey from the sea to the lake in two days.

N.D.L. AND H.A.L.

OVERTURES BEGIN.

London, Received February 3.
Reuter's correspondent at Bremen says overtures are already in the making with a view to ending the Atlantic rate war.
The Norddeutscher Lloyd have consented to a prolongation of the agreements until the end of February in order to facilitate further negotiations with the Hamburg-Amerika Linie, who have not yet replied.

THE DEPORTATIONS.

OPPOSITION LEADER'S APPEAL.

London, Received February 3.
On the opening of the South African Parliament, the Leader of the Opposition asked his followers to suspend their judgment on the deportation question pending a full statement from the Government.
The Hon. J. C. Smuts (Minister of Finance and Defence), in reply, pointed out that it was unusual to make a statement at the first reading, and said the Government would explain fully on Wednesday.

Mr. Cresswell's Attack.
Mr. Cresswell, the Labour leader, (who was sentenced on January 24 to a month's imprisonment for publishing a pamphlet likely to cause ill-feeling in connection with the South African labour troubles, and released by the Government on January 28,) virulently attacked the Government, which he accused of fostering unrest.

Lord Gladstone Defended.
London, Received February 4.
The Westminster Gazette in the course of an emphatically worded leading article on the proceedings in the South African Parliament, firmly upholds the attitude of Lord Gladstone throughout as only a constitutional position, similarly to that of the King in Britain. Any other attitude would render constitutional influence between the Motherland and the Dominions hopeless. The journal emphasises the point that the questions of British citizenship raised by the deportations are very important, and desires them to be argued with all the Dominions to see if it is possible to arrive at a general principle to apply to all Britishers, including Asiatics. That prospect, however, would be blasted if we started by challenging the rights of self-governing Dominions to provide for public safety.

TELEGRAMS.

ASIATIC EXCLUSION.

STEPS BY AMERICA.

[Reuter's Service To The "Telegraph."]

London, Received February 3.
Reuter's Washington correspondent says the House of Representatives has adopted an amendment to the Immigration Bill, excluding Hindus, Mongolians or other members of the Yellow races, Malays, and Africans, except where their entry is governed by Treaty.

A Rider.

London, Received February 4.
A rider has been added to the amendment providing that unless existing agreements otherwise stipulate, all agreements and conventions shall hereafter comprise this exclusion, and that the proposed legislation would not affect Japanese immigration.

COMPANY REPORT.

Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation.

The ninety-seventh report of the court of Directors to the Ordinary half-yearly general meeting of shareholders in the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation to be held at the City Hall, Hongkong, on Saturday, February 14, at noon, is as follows:—

The Directors have now to submit to you a General Statement of the affairs of the Bank, and Balance Sheet for the half-year ending 31st December, 1913. The net profit for that period, including $2,052,432.91, balance brought forward from last account, after paying all charges, deducting interest paid and due, and making provisions for bad and doubtful accounts, amount to $5,376,921.01.

The Directors recommend the transfer of $200,000 from the Profit and Loss Account to credit of the Silver Reserve Fund, which Fund will then stand at $17,650,000.

They also recommend writing off Bank Premises Account the sum of $300,000.
After making these transfers and deducting Remuneration to Directors there remains for appropriation $4,861,921.01, out of which the Directors recommend the payment of a Dividend of Two Pounds Sterling per Share, viz., $240,000, and a Bonus of Five Shillings Sterling per Share, viz., $30,000 amounting in all to $270,000 which at 1/11.3-16, the rate of the day, will absorb $2,794,809.16.

The Balance $2,067,311.85 to be carried to New Profit and Loss Account.

Sterling Reserve Fund.
The holding of $1,200,000 2½ per cent. Consols has been written down by $12,000 to $252,000, and now stands in the Books at 71; "Other Sterling Securities" have also been written down to the extent of about $12,000.

To effect these adjustments and maintain the Fund at $1,500,000, Sterling Stocks to the face value of $25,000 costing $24,356.2s. 9d. were purchased and added to "Other Sterling Securities" bringing the amount under that heading to $431,500 written down to $241,100.

This expenditure was met out of the earnings of the half-year.

Directors.
The Honourable Mr. David Landale has been elected Chairman for the year 1914, and Mr. W. L. Pattenden Deputy Chairman.

Mr. F. Lieb and Mr. G. R. Laurenz having resigned their seats on leaving the Colony, Mr. E. Goetz and Mr. C. Landgraf have been invited to fill the vacancies; these appointments require confirmation at this meeting.

THE TEACHERS' STRIKE.

RIOTOUS PUPILS.

[Reuter's Service To The "Telegraph."]

London, Received February 3.
Lively scenes are occurring in Herefordshire, where eighty schools, accommodating 5,000 pupils, have been closed as a result of a strike of teachers for higher wages.

The pupils, resenting the presence of strike-breaking teachers, overturned desks, scattered books and inkpots broadcast, while there were several collisions in the streets between "striking" and "non-striking" children, who had to be separated by their parents.

Auditors

The Honourable Mr. E. Shellim, Mr. W. L. Pattenden and Mr. S. H. Dodwell retire in rotation, but being eligible for re-election, offer themselves accordingly.

The accounts have been audited by Mr. J. W. C. Bonnar and Mr. F. Maitland who offer themselves for re-election.

ST STEPHEN'S COLLEGE.

Archdeacon Barnett Retires and Speaks on the College.

The Venerable Archdeacon Barnett is retiring from the post of warden of St. Stephen's College, after eleven years hard work in connection with the college. His retirement is due to the fact that as secretary to the Church Missionary Society in South China he has to travel a long way into China, even so far as Yunnan Fu, about six days journey from Hongkong. The duties of this position are incompatible with that of Warden at St. Stephens since one post calls him away from Hongkong and the other calls on him to remain in Hongkong.

Eleven years ago Archdeacon Barnett instituted what is now the important college of St. Stephens. There were then six students; to-day there are 170, forty of whom are boarders. The college at the commencement was situated on half the house that is occupied at present. The progress made by the school is best indicated by the fact that the Chinese made a voluntary gift of thirty thousand dollars to erect the new wing. This contribution in face of the fact that the first daily lesson is one of scripture, Archdeacon Barnett thought, was a strong reply to those people who say that the Chinese dislike Christianity being forced down their throats, which of course is not the case. One of the students of the College is now in the Law Department in Peking, after being at Oxford and being called to the Bar in England. Several of the students have taken degrees in England, and one, the son of Dr. Wan Man-kai, has just returned after taking his B.Sc. London in chemistry. No school in Hongkong, said the Archdeacon, has sent up so many undergraduates to the Hongkong University as St. Stephen's College. Out of St. Stephen's College has grown St. Stephen's Girls' School with about 120 pupils, and St. John's Hall, and the University Hostel.

Referring to the change at the Fairless School, the Archdeacon said that there had been some misunderstanding in connection with the change that had taken place there. When the University was built it was found that, overlooking the girls' school as it did, it was not a desirable place for a school in which they had girls up to the age of eighteen. After consultation with the Home committee of the C.M.S., to whom the property belongs, it was decided to find a fresh site for the girls' school and to use the Fairless site to the best advantage possible. It was not as though the property had changed hands or been sold—it is still the property of the C. M. S., and there was no question of compensation such as had been alluded to.

The school succeeding the old one is now situated at No. 5 and 6 Prospect Place, and in the event of that being made a permanent arrangement, the sum of $10,000 has been reserved for the purpose. The Diocesan School at Kowloon had, the Archdeacon told the Telegraph, nothing whatever to do with the old school at Fairless. Referring to mission work the Archdeacon said that there were now five self-supporting churches in Hongkong and Kowloon in connection with the U. M. S. Then there were plans for the extension of the work in Canton and district and Nanning, and for the Medical Mission to be extended from Pakhoi to Yunnan Fu. In the course of a few days, Dr. Neville Bradley with his wife (formerly a Miss Cadbury of that name) and his family would pass through on their way to Yunnan to take charge of the medical work there. Dr. Bradley is very well-known in Hongkong.

Archdeacon Barnett will make Hongkong his centre, and he is not to leave us. He is an Australian, his parents being born in England.

The defendant yesterday produced a permit allowing him to take the car out at 5.30 a.m. and asked how he could be out at 4.30 at that hearing P.C. Grinnett deposed to seeing the defendant out at the hour stated. The defendant did not stop when called upon.

Sergeant W. Pitt to day gave evidence to seeing the car out at about 4.50 a.m. and the defendant who denied that such was the case was ordered to pay $25 or in default one month's imprisonment.

An Interesting Experiment.
The need for closer study of the Chinese language by British-ers who hope to succeed in China has frequently been advocated in these columns. We are therefore gratified to learn from a Shanghai exchange that one of the biggest foreign firms in China is about to make the experiment.
All the members of its staff are to be encouraged to take the language course, which will be in the mandarin dialect. When a certain qualifying examination has been passed a bonus of something like a thousand dollars will be paid to the student, and from that time on a special monthly language allowance will be made so long as the employee remains with the firm. There can be no question that this is the right way of going about things. Mr.
James Bryce recently animadverted upon British indifference to the study of foreign languages, hinting that probably the over-zeal for sport was the cause.
Wherever one travelled abroad,
he said, one found the heads of British firms complaining that young Englishmen showed less interest in their work than did their competitors from the Continent.

Daily Press.

The Panama Exposition.
The Committee says it has been able to make favourable arrangements as regards the shipping of exhibits to San Francisco which would greatly reduce the expenses both of the Government and of the manufacturer, and the further suggestion has been made that all British exhibits at the San Francisco Exposition, instead of being returned direct to England, should be shown at the Winnipeg and Toronto exhibitions in 1916.
It is stated that this proposal could probably be executed free of all expense to the British Government and the individual exhibition, and that it would cause great gratification throughout Canada. Whether, in view of the addition of seven million pounds sterling to the Naval Estimates in the coming year, the Committee will be able to persuade any considerable body of members of the House of Commons that the commercial advantages likely to accrue to the nation from official participation in the Exhibition would warrant a Parliamentary vote of a quarter of a

there are indications that the House generally supports the demand for participation, the Government is hardly likely to reverse a decision which it has already reconsidered and confirmed.

The Kikuyu Controversy.
The same article goes on to say "We earnestly hope that the issues will be fought out now once for all—the issue whether the Church of England is a comprehensive Church, as we hold it to be, to which every Christian British subject belongs by right of citizenship, even though he does not wish to conform." It would seem from the letters and articles which have appeared, so far, that the general trend of opinion outside the "Catholic" section of the protagonists is in favour of the action of the two evangelical Bishops, even though it may be discovered that they have stretched a point in order to reach the goal towards which they were pressing. The future will be watched with extreme interest, and it is more than likely that, as the result of the step taken by the two Bishops and the opposition which it has roused, the air will be cleared before the the fight is over and some definite step taken as to what constitutes membership of the National Church, and whether confirmation at the hands of a Bishop is essential to this relationship.

Vesuvius Wears a Mantle.

Abundant snow has fallen in Southern Italy, and Vesuvius is covered with a white mantle. From its lofty incandescent pinnacle issues smoke, accompanied by frequent explosions caused by the infiltration of water inside the crater.

Governor Resigns.

Captain Carl L. Stone, P. S., Governor of the province of Mindoro, has presented his resignation to the governor general. No action has as yet been taken on the matter by the chief executive, but it is authoritatively stated that it will be accepted in the near future.

Mails Snowed Up.

The motor mail van which left Dover for London late the other night was snowed up about a mile from Folkestone, and could not resume its journey until ten o'clock next morning. The Deal and Dover mail cart was also snowed up, the driver having to walk into Dover and obtain assistance to dig out his horse and cart.

Portuguese Consular Posts.

According to a Bangkok paper, Commander L. L. Florio, Portuguese Charge d'Affaires there, has been called to Lisbon by the Portuguese Minister for Foreign Affairs, to be consulted about the reorganization of the diplomatic consular posts in the Far East, as he is the oldest official. He expects to be back in four months.

Sarah's Chance.

On the last day of the old year Sarah Northern, whose convictions at the Guildhall alone date back to 1872, was once more charged with being drunk and disorderly. Sarah has become an institution, and on many occasions has left the court with a donation to enable her to "buy a little stock" only to appear again the next morning a prisoner.

Starving in the Snow.

A starving out-of-work was rescued from death in the snow at Tyburn, Birmingham. While out with his gun a Mr. Edkins found the man lying unconscious in the snow, and after restoring animation carried him to his residence. There the man revived, and gave his name as William Armitage, stating that he had fallen exhausted after fasting for two days.

Man Who Arrested Mr. Burns.

The man who, many years ago, arrested Mr. John Burns during the riots in Trafalgar-square has just been presented by the Viewers (Middlesex) Brotherhood with a bound copy of "The Life of the Right Hon. John Burns, M.P." He is Mr. Maitland, a member of the Brotherhood. In making the presentation Mr. W. H. Knowles referred to "the important part Brother Maitland had played in the life of Mr. Burns."

The Unattended Fire.

A cable worker in the employ of the Calendar Cable and Construction Company placed an iron bucket full of coke fire outside the Company's premises, Ormond-yard, Ormond-street, Holborn, in order to have more room to get a cable off a drum. No one was left in charge of it. Three minutes later screams were heard, and Florence Whiting, a five-year-old girl, who was playing in the yard, was found in flames. An inquest on the child was held and the jury returned a verdict of "Death by misadventure," adding a rider that fires should not be left in the street unattended.

Model Village Fire.

A fire which broke out the other night at the model village of Crawley, near Winchester, destroyed a huge barn and three cottages, and three families were rendered homeless. A workman's Christmas supper had taken place in the barn, which is used as a skating rink, and the company had just gone to the reading-room when the barn was found to be ablaze.

If you have lost your appetite, one of the big variety of dainty dishes at the ALEXANDRA CAFE is sure to tempt you.

A Lonely Scotsman.
Some time ago the University of Pennsylvania sent out an Amazon expedition to the regions of Brazil, and a preliminary report has just been received from Dr. Farabee, the head of the expedition. He states that the members have made a trip up the Urarucura River to a point much higher than any previously reached by white men. They went as far as they could, until further progress was hindered by waterfalls. They then penetrated the interior of the country, and found three Indian tribes, who called themselves Porocoto, Ajumaras, and Zipoco. Dr. Farabee made vocabularies of their languages, took photographs and collected many ethnological specimens and also found many archaeological specimens of rare interest. The explorers were greatly assisted in their work by a Scotsman whom they found living in one of the native villages. He had lived in that region for about twenty five years, had married one of the Indian women, and had become thoroughly familiar with the different Indian languages.

AFFAIRS IN PEKING.

Since the dissolution of Parliament by President Yuan Shih-kai, the chief feature of the situation in Peking has been a feeling of uncertainty and confusion as to the future. Nobody seems to know precisely what the intentions of the leading men of the country are; and, if we are to judge from all that we read, a deplorable conflict of view prevails in official circles. When the Provisional Constitution was framed and for a brief period put into operation, there was at any rate the satisfaction of knowing that the Administration was put on a definite basis, but since the calling in to being of the Central Administrative Conference the utmost speculation has been aroused as to what body will eventually discharge the administrative functions of the Government. It was at first thought that in the new Provisional Constitution China had secured an organ which suited her needs to a nicety, but it is now evident that the whole underlying foundation of the scheme is to be discarded.

The latest reports from the North are to the effect that the cabinet system is likely to be overthrown, and it is this possibility which has probably accounted for the rumours of the impending retirement of the Premier, for in the event of such a step the Premiership would necessarily be cancelled. It is of interest, incidentally, to note that a new important office is likely to be created for Premier Hsiang, this post to be somewhat similar to that of the Director-General of National Railways and to be under the direct control of the President, independent of the different Ministries. On the general question of future administration, it seems that no hasty decision is to be taken, and we observe that all the chief advisers, foreign and Chinese, have by memoranda expressed their views on the subject. All these opinions have been noted, and now that the theoretical aspects of the question have been considered, the President has instructed the Secretariat to send a circular telegram to the principal Provincial officials and Ministers abroad requesting them to give their views as to which will be the best system for the Republic. One of the suggestions made is that the Administrative Conference should be made the permanent body of the Constitution, but it is said that the members of it do not wish this, preferring that the matters which now come before it should be referred to a new body for the making of laws which is likely to be called into existence.

The whole circumstances seem to indicate a chaotic state of affairs at the centre of authority, and we wonder that those at the head of the Government do not promulgate some well-defined scheme and speedily put it into operation. Not that it matters much whether power is eventually wielded by a popularly elected body, a nominated Conference or the President himself. But until the matter is once and for all settled, there can be no satisfactory progress for the Republic. There are big, burning questions waiting for consideration and action, and the pity of it is that so much valuable time and opportunity is being wasted on non-essentials. It is high time the way was made clear for dealing with the pressing questions of the hour.

Ferry Improvement.

More than once have we had occasion to comment on the enterprise of the Star Ferry Company in considering the comfort and convenience of the public. The latest illustration on this point is to be found in the provision of larger gangways on the ferry steamers. These are quite double the width of the old ones, and as a consequence there is not that jostling and scrambling which there used to be in dealing with traffic. The growing popularity of Kowloon has, of course, greatly added to the number of people who regularly use the ferry service, while the railway traffic is also helping to swell the total, and in view of these facts some better arrangement for handling the growingly large number of patrons was a necessity. The new gangways were brought into use from Monday, and their provision is widely appreciated.

The Political Outlook.

We are evidently approaching a vital moment in Home politics. Mr. Bonar Law is convinced that there will be a General Election at an early date, and it is unlikely that the Leader of the Opposition would commit himself to such a view without very good reasons. Some months back Ministers were unanimous on the point that no election would occur before 1915, but since that time new factors have arisen—factors, too, which have made the position of the Government even more precarious than it was before. The thorny Home Rule problem is as yet by no means out of the way, while the sharp conflict which has taken place between rival camps in the Cabinet on the Navy question has further served to increase the confusion in Ministerial ranks.

Other Factors.

On these difficulties come the storm raised over the deportation of the South African Labour leaders, and it may very well be that the Government will also find itself in "Queer Street" on this matter, for the Labour Party intends moving an amendment to the Address from the Throne on this subject. By that time, of course, the full explanation of the Union Government will be available, and it will be interesting to see how far this will affect the voting on the amendment. In any case, there can be no getting away from the fact that the Asquith Ministry is daily getting more deeply into the mire, and in the ordinary course of events there is little likelihood that it will long survive. When it comes to an appeal to the country, the Government will likely be given its marching orders, for though the task of the Unionists will be a heavy one, the "swing of the pendulum" may be counted upon to materially assist the party in winning back many of the seats lost in 1906.

MISS MAUD ALLAN.

Probably in the artistic history of the Far East there has never been such keen interest displayed in the coming visit of any artist as that being evinced in the advent of Miss Maud Allan, the most famous Classical Dancer in the world. This wonderful artist has appeared before the King and Queen and numerous members of European Royal Families.

The party consists of Maud Allan and Miss Jan and Michel Cherniavsky and a host of electricians, attendants etc. The box plan is open at Moutrie's and everyone is advised to book at once, as there will only be three Recitals in this town, by this powerful amalgamation.

Wobbling Road.

Shops were flooded and people imprisoned by the bursting of a large water main in Goldhawk-road, Shepherd's Bush, London, W. The first sign was a peculiar ringing in the middle of the roadway, and this quickly extended until for about twenty yards the stone setts were being forced up, a tramway standard swayed ominously, and the pavement trembled under people's feet.

NEW CANTON BANK.

Arrangements in Hongkong Abandoned.

In view of the declining value of Kwongtung notes, and the consequent effects on trade between this port and Canton, steps were taken some little time back, as we reported on January 7, to establish a Merchants Bank in which Hongkong and Canton capital should participate. The Bank, which was to be a semi-official concern, was to be located in Canton, but it was intended to issue prospectuses in Hongkong and to canvass for subscriptions here. The scheme, however, has since had to be considerably modified and the scene of operations transferred to Canton altogether.

The proposals of the promoters of the Bank came before a meeting of the Hongkong Chinese Chamber of Commerce recently, and at this meeting Mr. Ho Fook pointed out that the provisions of the Companies Ordinance prevented the scheme being carried out so far as the Hongkong portion was concerned, because by the Ordinance partnerships were not permitted unless registered as a Company under the Ordinance, notwithstanding that part of the business was carried on elsewhere. The Ordinance also prohibited the issuing of prospectuses or the solicitation of subscriptions unless the Company was registered.

Subsequently the Provincial Treasurer at Canton was informed of the requirements of the law here, and it was then resolved to abandon the project in Hongkong but to endeavour to carry it into effect in Canton. It should be mentioned in this connection that just before Chinese New Year six members of the Hongkong Chinese Chamber of Commerce paid a visit to Canton in regard to the scheme, and their presence had an excellent effect. They were entertained officially, and the knowledge that help could be expected from Hongkong is said to have practically prevented a crisis.

As we say, the project has now been transferred to Canton, but this does not mean that, if it is carried out, no Hongkong money will be put into the concern, though of course, for the reasons stated, no public canvassing will be permissible here. A meeting in Canton on the subject to-day, the following draft regulations will be considered:—

1. This Bank shall be named as the "Kwong Tung Kung Yik Bank." The object of establishing this Bank is to form a basis for pecuniary relief and the maintenance of commerce.

2. The capital of this bank shall be $30,000,000. (Canton twenty-cent piece currency) divided into 3,000,000 shares of $10 each to be once paid up. The means of raising shares will be as follows:—

(a) The Kwong Tung Government will subscribe $5,000,000 to be wholly paid up in silver.

(b) The merchants in Canton, Hongkong, Macao, and various foreign ports will be asked to subscribe $25,000,000—$5,000,000 of which shall be paid in silver and the remaining $20,000,000 in Kwongtung paper notes at the original discount of 30 per cent.

3. This Bank will be the organ for relieving the paper currency, for the buying and selling of raw gold and silver, and for receiving deposits and transacting exchange business.

4. Since this Bank has to relieve the paper currency and to act as agent for the Canton Treasury, the Kwongtung Government should have a portion of its public property assessed at worth more than $10,000,000, reduced to $10,000,000, and place same in the hands of the bank and also have current accounts and fixed deposits of $25,000,000 each in the bank as security for the payments and receipts of the Canton Treasury. (i.e. the security for obtaining confidence in the circulation of the paper currency). It is also stipulated that the Canton Mint shall manufacture dollars and coins for this bank in the same manner as it has hitherto done for the province of Kwongsei.

5. In the matter of improving Government property this bank shall be entitled to under a list of buildings, parks, etc.

under its supervision. The candidates for the said posts can be recommended by the bank and appointed by the Government in order to carry out the object of guarantee. But any one who neglects his duties shall be dealt with by the authorities according to the regulations fixed by the Central Government.

6. As this bank is in the course of formation, the merchants will temporarily elect ten or more respectable and trustworthy persons as its Committee and twenty to thirty persons as its directors to undertake its affairs in order to obtain confidence of the various communities. After it has been successfully established, the aforesaid committee and directors will be formally elected, according to the registered articles of association.

7. One respectable person will be selected from among the merchants to be general manager. He shall choose some trustworthy merchants to assist him to carry on the work of formation and organisation.

8. The General Manager, the Committee, and the directors will be "slightly" remunerated for their services. Anyone may have the choice of volunteering his services.

9. Share collectors and the staff of this bank shall be men of diligence and wit, to be recommended by its proposers and shareholders and secured by trustworthy guarantors. They undertake book-keeping, general affairs and keep documents, etc., and their salaries and provisions will be considered and fixed by the Committee.

10. This bank shall be a limited company; shareholders will therefore be only responsible for the number of shares they have subscribed, and will not be responsible for any loss that may be incurred in addition to their shares.

11. Shareholders of whatever nationality will also be treated according to the laws observed by the citizens of the Republic of China.

12. The interest to be paid by this bank on Capital shall be reckoned from the date of collection.

13. Subscribers who pay their subscriptions wholly in silver will be regarded as holding special shares and the interest on their subscriptions will be one per cent extra.

14. After the establishment of the bank the profit for the year after paying usual interest on Capital will be divided into forty parts appropriated as follows:

15 parts to be paid as bonus to shareholders,
15 parts to be kept as Reserve fund,
3 parts to be paid as bonus to the founders of the bank,
3 parts to be paid as bonus to the Committee and directors,
2 parts to be paid as bonus to the General Manager,
2 parts to be paid as bonus to the staff.

Interest shall be paid out of profit after the yearly balance sheet and profit and loss account have been squared up. It is not to be paid out of the capital.

15. The bonus for all special shares with subscriptions wholly paid up in silver is also to be considered to be paid one per cent extra.

16. This Bank contemplates first establishing a general office in a suitable place in Canton for the raising of shares and also establishing branch offices in various busy commercial ports in order that subscribers may subscribe their shares in a near place. The places when selected will be published.

17. Before the establishment of this bank, all cash collected from shares paid in silver will be deposited in a well known and trustworthy bank for interest, and that collected from shares paid in paper notes will be deposited in the Kwong Tung Kwong Chin Kok-i, the Canton Government Treasury Bank for interest. In the event of failure of the bank in the course of formation, shareholders will at once be refunded their subscriptions and interest, which will not be detained.

18. The head office of this bank is contemplated to be erected on the Canton Bund and its branches and agencies will also be established in all busy places within and without the province.

AFTER EIGHT YEARS

Plea of Not Guilty in Murder Charge.

This morning in the Police Court before Mr. J. R. Wood, Chu Lai alias Cho Tsai of the Wai Chau district was charged with the murder of Sin Ying at Wong Nai Wu, Yau-met, on March 11, 1905, with shooting and wounding Sin Shu with intent to murder at the same time, and with being in unlawfully possession of arms. The first charge only was read to the prisoner and to this he pleaded not guilty. Acting-Inspector Terrett asked for a formal remand for a week and this was granted.

Bills of exchange will be issued in order to effect extension of trade.

19. Any subscriber who pays his subscription will be granted a receipt as proof until the bank is established, when a meeting of shareholders will be called by the Committee and auditors will be elected by the shareholders to audit the number of shares and other necessary business. The Committee will at the same time draft a copy of articles of association for registration with the Board of Commerce. Formal share scrips will be advertised in the newspapers for exchange.

20. Shareholders of this bank may be officials, gentry, merchants, or common people and may hold a small or a great number of shares, but they will be uniformly treated according to the registered Articles of Association.

21. The registered articles of Association of this bank and its regulations for transacting business will be formed according to common law. They may be had by shareholders for perusal on application.

22. Any corrections made in these draft regulations will be publicly discussed by the promoters of the bank and published in succession.

The following six articles are also appended:—

1. This bank has now been permitted to print and issue bank notes to the total value of $20,000,000 to aid it in the collection of the Kwongtung paper notes. In future when the business has become a success, it will also be permitted to issue extra banknotes for circulation in the market. But the number of extra banknotes issued must have an equal reserve fund as security, and in the event of the Government exacting a bill for taxes to be paid in paper notes, it should be observed.

2. After the establishment of this bank, its term of existence shall be at least thirty years and if it has committed no unlawful practice the Government shall have no right to dissolve it or raise any obstacles to commercial enterprise.

3. All promoters of this bank must subscribe at least $5,000 each and raise $20,000 in addition to same.

4. Directors shall be elected from among the promoters of the bank.

5. Every individual who subscribes $25,000 will be eligible to be elected on the Committee and those who subscribe $5,000 will be eligible to be elected as Directors.

6. The Canton paper notes collected by this bank will be gradually redeemed and cancelled by loans at the collected price by the Kwongtung Government and interest paid at the rate of 6 per cent. If loans be unsuccessful, the Government will give an equal amount of likin duty and taxes as security and redeem same by yearly instalments. But interest is to be paid twice a year.

FINE NEW VESSEL.

Royal Mail Cargo Steamer
Cardiganshire.

An opportunity was offered the Telegraph this morning, of inspecting the fine new cargo vessel of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, Cardiganshire, which is at the moment lying alongside the Kowloon Wharf. Captain G. E. Warner, who has been running out East for twenty-two years, has charge of the vessel and he has under his command Chief Officer Cooke R.N.R., Chief Engineer P. Eckford, seven other officers, seven other engineers, and a capable crew of 144. The vessel, which is making its first run East, was built by Messrs. Workman and Clark and Company Ltd., Belfast. She has a gross registered tonnage of 9,500, a length of 516 feet, a beam of 62 feet and an average speed of 13 knots per hour. In the special trials, however, she did 15-3/4 knots, while at sea she has proved herself capable of an average of 13-1/2 knots per hour.

One remarkable feature of this fine cargo boat is the facilities for the rapid handling of cargo. There are six hatches which are furnished with twenty-nine up right derricks, while "forward" the vessel has a boom derrick capable of elevating 40 tons and a second one aft capable of lifting 20 tons. Owing to her remarkable electric lighting equipment the work of loading and unloading cargo can be carried on as expeditiously by night as by day. She is fitted with a spacious refrigerating plant and the whole ship can be practically converted into a cold store if necessary. Though there is superior accommodation for twelve first class passengers it is not proposed to carry any. There is provision for no less than 900 deck passengers, under the bridge deck and in the top portable bunks being erected. The vessel is fitted with submarine signalling, wireless (two operators) and from the bridge to the Marconi room there is special telephonic communication. There is also installed the Nanyphon which connects with the docking bridge aft, the fore and the engine room. By this system of communication the orders are practically free from confusion caused by imperfect hearing as might arise when they are delivered through a megaphone from the bridge.

Ample precautions have been taken regarding an outbreak of fire and the Clayton apparatus has been installed. By this method of dealing with fire, gas is pumped into the hold where in the fire might have broken out and automatically the air from the hold is drawn out which soon causes the flames to become extinguished. The draught of the ship is 29 feet 8 inches and she was the first vessel to pass through the Suez Canal which took advantage of the increase in draught which was permitted in steamers from January 1. The Cardiganshire passed through on the 2nd, and experienced a fog such as Captain Warner has never seen in the Canal during his career.

The disinfecting apparatus of Messrs. Goneste and Herschers has been installed and apart from this there is a steam apparatus for disinfecting which is put in operation when necessary. This particular system is found useful when anything in particular, add detached from the general run on the ship, needs attention. There are five such ships as the Cardiganshire to come on this run, the Carnarvonshire, which is due here in May, the Breckonshire, the Cornmarthenshire and the Pembrokehire. The old Cammarthenshire and the Pembrokehire have been renamed the Obaleur and the Chigneco respectively. The last named vessels are to run between the West Indies and Canada and they will accompany the ill-fated Colquhoun which ran on a reef in the Bay of Fundy. The R.M.S. will then have on the Atlantic shipping to the extent of 320,000 tons, and on the Pacific 243,000 tons. The whole arrangements on board the Cardiganshire are of the latest and most efficient. From here she sails to Shanghai.

CHINESE TRADE DISPUTE.

Many Steamers Held
up in Hongkong.

Since Chinese New Year there has been a serious dispute in Chinese commercial circles in Hongkong, buyers and sellers having come into conflict over a new regulation which it was proposed should govern future relations between the two. It appears that hitherto when sellers of rice, flour and certain other produce, bought from the Guilds they were allowed, on payment, a certain discount which was regulated according to the exchange between Hongkong and Canton. The arrangement had worked well until the recent depreciation in the value of Canton banknotes, the fluctuation in which has, it is stated, caused considerable loss to sellers, inasmuch as the rate of discount might be one per cent when goods were sold, but by the time payment was made it might have risen to three or four per cent. This, indeed, has actually happened during recent times, and it was this fact which led the commission agents Guild and the Nam Pak Hong Guild (general merchants) to propose the abolition of the old custom, and in this suggestion they were backed up by other Guilds. The buyers, however, have objected to the proposal, and the dispute which has since ensued has greatly interfered with trade. In fact, according to our information, no fewer than 21 steamers—12 doing trade with Saigon and the other nine with Bangkok—have been held up in harbour, fully loaded with rice.

A meeting of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce is being held to-day to endeavour to bring the parties together and effect a settlement, as many commission agents are said to be suffering from the effects of the quarrel, owing to their having cargoes of perishable goods on hand. It is stated that the buyers are willing to have the rate of discount fixed for a year instead of at a fluctuating rate, and they contend that such an arrangement will be to the interests of all parties.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENT.

Manager of a Shop Charged.

This morning in the Police Court, before Mr. Hazelard, Li Chung, manager of the Fuk Sang Chung shop, No. 102, Wenzhai, was charged with having embezzled, on divers dates between February 1911, and February 1914, the sum of $2,757.98 the property of the Fuk Sang Chung.

Mr. Dixon of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist appeared for the prosecution and the prisoner was remanded for a week for the accounts to be given into.

Office Crime Mystery.

Elizabethan Tapestries.

Ten very fine tapestries have just been placed on view in the east main staircase of the Victoria and Albert Museum. They are all English of the late 16th century, and form a notable addition to the collection already in the museum. They consist of panels embroidered with wool and silk on canvas (petit point).

then to Japan and then on to America and Canada.

Captain Warner pointed out that when 350 miles south of Hongkong he found that he could not get into wireless communication with the Colony in order to inform his company that he would be in port ahead of the time. He had to get into communication with Tientsin, 1,100 miles away, and from there the information had to be cabled to Hongkong. He is of the opinion that since vessels install a wireless it is only right and proper that a great ship like Hongkong should be able to have wireless communication with ships at sea.

THE HONGKONG TELEGRAPH. EXTRA

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1914.

PHILIPPINE POLICY.

Important Speech by Mr. Cameron Forbes.

Mr. W. Cameron Forbes, former Governor General of the Philippines, delivered an important speech on American policy towards the Islands at a dinner of the Philippine Society in New York on December 19. Ex-President Taft presided.

"The United States," Mr. Forbes said "has been working now a trifle over fifteen years in the effort to make a progressive, prosperous and happy people of that conglomeration of races in the Philippine Islands known as Filipinos."

"I have never tried to discourage the very natural and proper desire for independence which is almost universal among these people. It shows they have soul and ambition and are worth working for. I, personally, am not a believer in the United States permanently holding an alien people in subjection against their will."

"Neither am I a believer in the United States abandoning a job which it has once undertaken, turning its back upon its manifest duty, taking the hand from the plough, for reasons of selfish nature, either because of expense or troubles, or because of apparent inconsistency with our institutions. Should we desert those Filipinos who have been loyal to us, abandon those American citizens who have cast their lot in the Philippine Islands or fail to fulfil our promise to the world—that we mean to assure the permanence of democratic institutions in these islands?"

Islands Self-Supporting.
"There is much confusion as to the cost of the islands to the United States, and it does not yet seem to be generally known, that the islands are self-supporting. The only cost of the Philippine Islands to the United States is the cost of maintaining the small army of Philippine scouts and of transporting a certain portion of our army to and from the Philippine Islands, fortifying a few points on the islands, and certain expenses in connection with the navy, all these expenses, it will be seen, being military in their nature, and not civil."

"The kernel of the whole Philippine proposition to the people of the United States is whether the Filipinos can and will maintain a stable government if left to themselves, and if not what degree of control must we continue to exercise and how shall we exercise it?"

"Let us look at the Philippine situation analytically and see whether we find those conditions which make for such stability present to-day. We have 700-odd municipal governments. We have 31 provinces with governors elected by the people, and those we have scrutinized and watched with enthusiastic care and devotion. We have a lower branch of the Philippine Legislature, composed of 81 members, all elected by the people, and we have the laws passed by these people and sent up to the commission for concurrence which we can study and see where they lead us."

"In the year of 1910 Mr. Carpenter's bureau tried 338 cases of charges against municipal officials, found 262 of them guilty and removed 77, requested the resignation of 12 more and disciplined 184. Following the year 1911 these figures are somewhat smaller—only about three-quarters of that number of offences having been recorded."

No Fair Criticism.
"We must not make the mistake, however, of believing that a supervised government in which the power of removal is held directly over the head of every official of the government, by an Argus-eyed Governor General from America is a fair index of what that same government would do were the controlling hand to be withdrawn."

"The degree of control over a high-powered automobile in a crowded street with a trained chauffeur at the wheel is no index of the safety of turning that same machine loose, without anybody in the seat and the throttle wide open."

"If anybody wants to look over a variegated lot of legislation I recommend the study of the laws passed by the Assembly and turned down by the commission. A Legislature pledged to economy recently met and refused to appropriate money for the annual support of the government amounting to about $9,000,000, and yet passed appropriations for all sorts of purposes, some useful and some otherwise, to an amount of over $10,000,000. Of course, the commission, sitting as an upper house, had to refuse to concur in most of these laws."

"Although capital is the most crying need of the islands to-day, the Philippine Legislature, with a light-hearted nonchalance, passed a compulsory arbitration law which would have driven every prospective investor from the islands, including the reinvestment of their own native capital. The Filipinos were not actuated in this case by any hostility to capital, but from total ignorance of the effect of what they were doing, and it was only the refusal of the commission to concur in this feature of their bill that brought it about that the labour law is a reasonable law and a beneficial one in place of an impossible enactment."

"The Assembly also passed a law providing for a trial by jury. The law prepared and passed by them placed the selection of jurors in the hands of the political party then in power, which would have made possible the most horrible perversion of justice in the interest of party politics."

"What, then, would be the result of our moving out and withdrawing the controlling hand? I answer positively and without any hesitation whatever, it would be the establishment of an oligarchy to be conducted in behalf of certain privileged classes by a favoured few."

Others Would Get Them.

"The labouring classes would be given a bare living and nothing more; reduced to a condition bordering on serfdom from which they are just beginning to emerge, and the United States would be placed in a position of doing one of two things, either entirely abandoning the islands, in which case some other power would jump in and take possession of them, or of keeping other powers out and making ourselves responsible for the stability of a government over which we retained no control and which in the very nature of things can't be expected to be stable because it has none of the elements of stability."

"The proportion of literacy of the people if multiplied by three would still be way below the amount necessary to insure stability. The accumulated wealth and the rate of taxation paid by the people, or which they are able to pay, are not nearly enough to support even an army, to say nothing of a navy, and the majority of the officers old enough to hold the reins of the various entities of government—insular, provincial and municipal—have been brought up in the old school in which the salaries paid were small and the officers expected to eke out their meagre receipts by extortion and graft."

"Are we to support these oppressors against the objections of an outraged people, or are we to let the masses rise and brand the land with blood? And what are we to answer to those other nations of the world who tell us that they have read in the platforms of both parties that stable government would be established and maintained in the Philippine Islands?"

PHILIPPINE BUDGET.

Salaries Cut; Military Academy Established.

Reducing the Government's net expenditures below those of the last fiscal year by 2,047,501 pesos the appropriation bill yesterday morning passed the Philippine commission, says the Manila Bulletin of January 31. The bill is much more conservative than was anticipated. The sweeping reductions in salary made by the assembly were eliminated and all salaries below 6,000 yearly pesos were left intact. Salaries between 6,000 and 10,000 pesos were reduced five per cent, and those above 10,000 pesos were decreased ten per cent, including the salary of the governor general but not including those of the insular treasurer and the auditor. The assembly committee and the commission was in favour of leaving the chief executive's salary stand as it is, but Mr. Harrison insisted that it be reduced like the others. Promotions of several officials holding minor offices are provided for. Engineers and technical men in the bureau of science and audits will not be affected by reductions.

One of the new features of the bill is the establishment of a Philippine military academy modelled after West Point. One hundred cadets are provided to be recruited from the graduates of the insular universities and colleges. Each assemblyman will have the privilege of recommending a candidate for admission and each member of the commission may name two. The governor general may name three candidates. After completing a six months' course at the academy cadets will be given a test to qualify for third lieutenant in the Philippine constabulary.

Per diems for judges have been abolished and the offices of supervising railway expert and consulting architect have been done away with. The sales agency is continued for one year after which time it will be closed. An appropriation of 97,735 pesos is made for the public utilities commission.

A new feature of the bill is the direct appropriation for the non-Christian provinces which has hitherto been done by the commission exclusively. This question was one of the rocks upon which the last three appropriation bills foundered.

In order to provide machinery for the regulation of expenditures under extraordinary circumstances, a deficiency board is created consisting of the senior member, in point of service, of the Philippine commission, the chairman of the appropriations committee of the Philippine assembly, the attorney general, the insular treasurer, and the insular auditor. A sum not to exceed 1,000,000 pesos is provided for this fund. The board will make recommendations to the governor general and the speaker of the assembly, who will themselves make the special appropriations.

The salaries of the members of the assembly and the secretaries of both branches of the legislature remain the same.

Appropriations for the Philippine university, the school for household industries, and the code committee are included in the bill.

"If we are not going to have two Mexicos to deal with at once, if we are not going to have international complications of a most embarrassing kind, let us not therefore abandon the control we have exercised over the affairs of the islands, and let us keep good faith with ourselves and with our friends and give to the Philippines the blessings of the institutions from which we ourselves have so much benefited."

LAW OF LOST GOLF BALLS.

Amusing Decisions by Judge Parry.

The law of the lost golf ball is a serious subject far too wide to be adequately treated in a few paragraphs, says Judge Parry in the Cornhill.

I am going to assume that there is such a thing as property in a golf ball. A golf ball, I take it, is the subject of ownership of a very fleeting and precarious nature.

It seems clear that up to the beginning of the nineteenth century if you found a derelict golf ball you might pocket it and play with it without fear of the police; the only remedy of the owner, if it came to his ears that you had found his ball, being an action in trover and conversion, with a remote hope of recovery, damages. But as the penalty for theft became less severe, so the standard of honesty set by the law of larceny has been gradually raised, and to-day the old rule 'finding is keeping' is no longer a part of the common law of England or even of Scotland, where we know that they keep the Sabbath and everything else they can lay their hands on.

Thus if my caddie, knowing that I have lost a ball in the road at the tenth, goes back in the evening and finds it, well knowing by the gaping wound at the base of the thigh caused by the law he has given me at the seventh as he cannot have forgotten the shot—if, I say, he takes the ball with him to exercise entire dominion over it—as, for instance, to exchange it for cigarettes or sell it, that is larceny. But if, say, with full intent to return it to me the next morning, he plays a round with it himself in the dusk of the evening and loses it in the pond, he is not guilty of larceny, and my only remedy is an action for damages.

But you are to observe that if you prosecute your caddie for larceny, it is up to you—if the boy be under fourteen—to prove that he was a lad of guile with sufficient intelligence to appreciate that the old law of 'finding is keeping' has been improved off the face of the bench, and that other considerations prevail.

Of the golf ball washed up on the sea-shore and found as you take your Sunday stroll upon the beach, very different considerations prevail. Such a golf ball I take to be Wreck de Mer; being undoubtedly in the last instance ejusdem generis. Personally, the kind of ball that I tee up at the tenth at Llandudno or the sixth at Newquay, or at any seaside hole, is a wreck before it starts; but once driven, the shipwreck is generally complete. And when such goods are cast upon the land by the sea and left there within some country, it seems that they belong to the King by his prerogative as Lord of the Narrow Seas, or perhaps to the lord of the manor.

I believe that a lost golf ball, by which I mean 'lost' within the meaning of Rule 21 of the Royal and Ancient, and abandoned by the Dominus of the ball, who gives up all hope of future possession of it—such a golf ball is, I maintain, when it is discovered again, in the eyes of the law, treasure trove, thesaurus inventus, and subject to all the legal incidents thereof. For when you place a new half-crown spotted tangent down a rabbit-hole, what are you doing, but depositing treasure in the earth and hiding it in some private place?

To discover treasure trove and to conceal the discovery from the King's bailiff has always been a grave offence, being in early times punishable by death, and to-day by grievous fine and imprisonment. For myself, I shall run no risks, and the next golf ball I find I shall forward to our County Coroner with a petition that the Crown will be pleased to

"GAG" OF THE SEASON.

"Lend us Piccadilly Till Monday."

When Mr. Mallaby-Deeley decided to buy the Covent Garden estate, from the Duke of Bedford and became the hero of the record property deal, he overlooked one consequence the recollection of which might well have made him pause. It is impossible to go to a pantomime or to a revue without hearing his name.

In the Hippodrome revue one of the characters says: "Ask if Mr. Mallaby-Deeley will lend us Piccadilly till Monday."

The sad bad baron, reduced through extravagant living to the sale of his lands, announces his intention of searching for Mr. Mallaby-Deeley. Kingdoms and potato patches alike are sold to Mr. Mallaby-Deeley in the pantomimes. Sinbad the Sailor and Dick Whittington, arriving at new shores, find Mr. Mallaby-Deeley already in possession, and even the pumpkin that fairies turn into Cinderella's coach is provided from Covent Garden by kind permission of Mr. Mallaby-Deeley.

Last year it was Mrs. Pankhurst who inspired the comedians with good (and bad) things. One gains the impression this year of the fun-makers sitting in despair of new jokes until at last they read of the land deal. In a moment their troubles were over. At last, nearly over—not quite, for not one of them has yet been able to achieve a really satisfactory rhyme for "Mallaby-Deeley." Sir Owen Seaman, had a poem in Punch recently on Mr. Mallaby-Deeley, and with unaccountable cowardice made the name a refrain, thereby dodging the difficulty of finding a rhyme. Colonel Seely remains the only rhyme which the pantomime poets have yet thought of.

allow me the costs and expenses to which I have been put in recovering and forwarding the treasure trove. We shall then be able to discover by a practical test the views of our rulers upon this important subject.

This question is all too large and intricate for one mind. The matter is really of quite sufficient importance for the appointment of a Royal Commission. On it should sit golf experts, such as Taylor, Vardon, Ray, Braid, Mr. John Ball, and Mr. Hilton; Mr. Asquith and the Chancellor of the Exchequer could not only represent the State, which has a vast interest in this unclaimed increment, but, at the same time, they could adequately put forward the views of the long handiapped golfers who are the great contributors to treasure trove. I myself, if the secretaryship were to be a well-paid post, would give up my spare time to this duty in the interests of the community.

New Steamer Arrives.

A notable arrival in the harbour is the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's new ship the Cardiganshire, which arrived from Home. Her gross tonnage is 9,426.

Late Chief Justice of Gibraltar.

A profound sensation was caused at Gibraltar by the sudden death last month of Sir H. Phipps-Scholes, Chief Justice. Sir Henry was dining the previous night at the Mount with Vice-Admiral Brook. When the maid took a cup of tea to his room in the morning she found her master dead. It seems that the Judge had succumbed to a fit of apoplexy. All Gibraltar mourns the loss of a wise, broad-minded, and affable Chief Justice.

Commercial.

Continental Cotton Trade.

Reports from the Rhenish-Westphalian cotton centres state that the active yarn buying which set in in the middle of December became still more pronounced towards the end, many large contracts being placed both in mule and ring yarns. The decline in raw material appeared to have a stimulating effect on yarn consumers, who purchased freely, so that the Christmas week, which is usually a very quiet one, was this year one of the busiest experienced for a long time. Manufacturers of shirtings and printing cloths still complain of the lack of demand and unsatisfactory prices. Makers of cotton blankets do not seem to be at all well placed. The colder weather has brought forward some repeat orders, but buying for next autumn, which should begin about this time, has not yet set in. The export markets are beginning to buy rather more freely. A Brussels report states that the agreement regarding organised short time in the Belgian cotton-spinning trade, which was to have expired at the end of the month, has been renewed for a further period of two months. The curtailment in production is 18-2-3 per cent.

Railway Returns.

Railway traffic returns have rather a special interest when the year has just closed, and shareholders will not omit to notice that there were increases for a recent week of £19,000 on the Great Western, £16,000 on the London and North-Eastern, £14,500 on the Great Northern, £13,000 on the Midland, and £10,980 on the North-Eastern. The Great Central, with an increase of £4,700 and the Lancashire and Yorkshire, with £3,308, seem rather a long way behind, but these amounts are fairly substantial for all that. The increases for the year include £1,248,734 on the North-Eastern, £864,000 on the Great Western, £754,000 on the Midland, £812,300 on the Great Central, £348,500 on the Caledonian, £348,200 on the North British, £263,392 on the Lancashire and Yorkshire, and £402,000 on the Great Northern.

Indian Crop Acreage.

The Indian Government gives the following as the areas under wheat, linseed, and rapeseed for the present season:—Wheat, 22,330,000 acres, as against 24,634,000 in first estimate for 1912-13 and 29,542,000 final. The Punjab total has fallen from 9,289,000 acres (final) to 9,812,000 and the United Provinces from 7,397,000 to 5,138,000. Linseed, 2,788,000 acres, as against 2,600,000 first estimate 1912-13 and 3,885,000 final. "Mixed" is excluded. Rapeseed, 3,314,000 acres, as against 3,391,000 first estimate 1912-13 and 3,807,000 final. "Mixed" excluded.

Indian Cotton Crop.

The final report on the cotton crop in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh has been issued by the Indian Government. It states that the crop suffered severely from the prolonged drought, but as the area this year is the largest on record the total output of cotton is estimated at 482,000 bales of 400lb. each, compared with 423,000 bales estimated last year, an increase of 59,000 bales, or 14 per cent. In regard to the Central Provinces and Berar, which represent roughly 20.80 per cent. of the total area under cotton in British India, the Indian Government in its second forecast, places the increase in acreage under cotton in the Central Provinces and Berar at 7 and 3 per cent. respectively. This increase is attributable to the favourable climatic conditions at sowing time and the high prices which then prevailed. The output in the Central Provinces is estimated to be 20 per cent. superior to that

HEROIC USE OF RADIUM.

£20,000 Worth Tried in a Cancer Case.

Radium estimated at the value of £20,000 is temporarily embedded in tubes in the left shoulder of Robert G. Bremner, of New Jersey, a Congressman, as a cure, or at least a check, for an extensive cancerous growth. The rare operation is being conducted by Dr. Howard Kelly, of Baltimore, who placed the radium in eleven tubes coated with rubber, and inserted them in as many incisions made in the afflicted part with the aid of cocaine.

Dr. Kelly thinks the treatment will result in a degeneration of the cancer cells, due to the action of the gamma rays. These are said to be the radiations of the only three kinds of rays emitted by radium which so far have proved of value in cancer. The operation is so performed that the alpha and beta rays are filtered out, leaving only gamma rays to penetrate the cancerous growth. Dr. Kelly believes the insertion of the radium tubes in the cancer will diminish its mass and arrest its growth.

Dr. Kelly, who is specialist of the Johns Hopkins University group, recently bought, with Mr. James Douglas, President of Messrs. Phelps, Dodge and Co. of New York, twenty-seven Carnotite mine claims in Paradox Valley, Colorado, where there are now believed to be great radium ore deposits. It was recently announced that they had organised a National Radium Institute, at which, with the co-operation of the Federal Bureau of Mines, radium would be extracted according to a new process and used for medical purposes. It is stated that not one cent of radium would be sold, but that all would be used in the cause of humanity.

Mr. Bremner, it is understood, submitted to operation as a last resort, having vainly tried American and European doctors for relief. He is a native of Scotland and a newspaper editor.

of the previous year, while in the Berar last year's crop is exceeded by 20 per cent.

New Company.

Incorporation papers have been filed in the archives division of the executive bureau at Manila by the Cotabato Valley Estate company. The objects of the company are to carry on a general farming and development enterprise, to acquire by lease, purchase, or otherwise agricultural lands, water privileges, timber concessions, and to build upon, develop, cultivate, exploit, farm, settle, and otherwise improve and utilize the same. The capital stock of the new concern is 100,000 pesos divided into 1,000 shares of a par value of 100 pesos each. The stock is all subscribed to and paid up. The directors and stockholders are Mr. F. J. Dunleavy of Boston who owns 199,600 pesos worth of the capital stock; and Messrs F. K. Schnitzler, and Albino Z. Sy Cip, who hold one share each. It is understood that the new company will develop the San Antonio hacienda at Cotabato in Mindanao. The offices of the company will be in Manila. Mr. F. K. Schnitzler is treasurer.

Bank Clerks' Salaries.

The Times learns that seven of the leading London banks have revised the salary list of their clerks on a considerably more generous scale than usual. In certain of the cases a connection between this favourable revision and the increased cost of living was admitted, though the chief principle governing the revision has been that of a recognition of merit.

"WHERE THE POOR FOLK LIVE."

Little Girl's Pitiful Story.

How a little girl had to seek help for a small family came to light this morning on the landing outside the Police Court. A little girl in shabby frock, and with a woe-begone face explained to a police officer that she wanted to see the magistrate to get a ticket to go back to California. She was hungry, and so was her mother and a little brother. They had had no food for a long time and she had had to come to the Court.

The girl is only nine years of age, and has been resident in Hongkong for only a few months. She told her sad tale of how her mother, who was an American, had married a Chinese and he had brought her to Hongkong with the family and had gone away.

Naturally the question was put "where is mother now?" "Mother's at home" was the reply.

"Why doesn't she come here?" "She has only Chinese clothes and is too ashamed," pathetically replied the youngster.

With this she was brought before Mr. Hazeland by Inspector Gerrard who briefly put the girl's story to the magistrate. She was put up on the dais and repeated her story in the calm matter of fact tones of a child who did not understand the tragedy of what she spoke.

"Where do you live?" asked Mr. Hazeland.

"Where the poor folk live" answered the little one and with only the addition that it was a "few miles away" the court got very little further information. The police are to make enquiries.
